ABSTRACT

A method, system and machine readable storage for creating user groups in a network environment. The method includes the step of monitoring a plurality of user sessions, each associated with a different user. At least one affinity among the user sessions can be identified. Responsive to the affinity identification, at least one action can be initiated, for example, presenting a user interface to at least one of the users and/or prompting users to engage in communication.